ROUSING APPEALS IN BEHALF OF THE ISSUE

Youthful Speakers Answer All Arguments Made Against the Improvement

By J. E. Blair

A symposium is described in Webster's and other dictionaries as "ap article in a magazine in which various writers express their views on a given subject." So why not call the profound campaign of yesterday, in which a number of speakers expressed their views "on a given subject" a symposium or something of the kind? Call it what you like, it is a fact that the high school students of Albany formed a flying squadron Sunday with at export financing by the government least one of their number speaking at one or more of the several churches in behalf of the bonds necessary to ing the month, compared with 583,725 complete the building program as the same month last year, the comrecommended by the Albany city merce department announced today. fathers and the Albany board of eduristion. Trinity Youth is Painfully Hurt By Stray Bullet

An operation will be performed on Roy Boulton, Trinity youth, who was wounded in the head late Saturday by a stray bullet while he sat before a fire in his Trinity home. He is 18 years of age. He was attended by Dr. Emmens and brought here for an X-ray photograph which lo-cated the ball.

The source of the bullet which wounded young Boulton today remained a mystery. It is supposed that it came from the gun of some hunter in the vicinity. The ball penetrated Boulton's head to a depth of one inch and a half, indicating that the bullet traveled some distance.

Behind this menace he pointed to Russia, filled with anarchy and armed men. This combination of the two, he warned, was not an idle dream, it armed forces of 20,000,000 men. Germany has 7,000,000. The 7,000,000 of highly trained soldiers which made Germany the menace of the world have not returned to civil life, the French Premier declared, but are grouped together in former veterans'

When the Upper Silesian question-reached a critical stage there were in the winkling of an eye about 40,-000 men ready on the spot with ma-chine guns. These facts have been verified, Briand said.

"Now I ask the great people of the United States, those people who are so fair minded and just, suppose there was by your side a nation which you feel is still ready, morally and materially, to make war on you. Would you close your eyes to that danger? France already has cut down her army to almost the lowest possible point consistent with national safety," Briand

He pointed out that laws already were pending in the French chamber of deputies, decreasing the period of compulsory service from three years to one and one-half years. These steps, Briand said, have already been taken by France as an evidence of her willingness to do her utmost to realize the ideal of reduced armament.

Why Buick Valve-in-Head Motors Have More Power

Internal combustion motors are heat engines. The more heat retained in their cylinders, the more power they generate.

Water-jacketing space absorbs heat.

Buick Valve-in-Head motors have about 20% less water-jacketing space than the L Head type and about 15% less than the T Head type.

That is one of the reasons why Buick Valvein-Head motors have more power.

What Varicose Veins Are and What to Do About Them

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. Commissioner of Health, New York City

TT is rare indeed for persons past fifty years of age to be free from dilatation of the veins. There may be nothing more than a few streaks of prominent be nothing more than a few streaks of prominent blood-vessels here and there on the body's surface. Or there may be great bunches of dilated and twisted veins, standing out like whipcords, and looking as if they might burst at any moment.

Usually the legs, between the knees and the ankles, are the chief location of the troub'e. It is rare for other veins to be seriously involved.

After a severe illness, or in a debilitated person who is obliged to keep on his feet, the condition may be observed.

Spight recently asked me whom I thought were the two greatest men among the dead, reared in this country in the last generation. I told him without hesitation, 'Robert E. Lee and Abraham Lincoln,' and that their claim to greatness rested on their desire to serve humanity.

"As Dr. Claxton recently brought out anew, General Lee could have had a fortune, just for the use of his name, but he preferred to serve the youth of his native state, as Presiat Ramer school, Pike Road school and dent of Washington and Lee Uni-

Munday Health Talk No. 5 By Worten & Wooten, Chiropractors

In spite of the general use of cometics, women fear skin discases. Nothing will cover up the eruption of a nest of pimples, and pimples will come where the stomach and kidneys are out of order.

The cause may be plain gluttony, but where there is care in not overcating, and yet the tiny, disfiguring spotches comes, the cause is in the spine. There is pressure on spinal nerves to the stomach

Feel a New Woman

"Friends persuaded me to take chiropractic spinal adjustments about seven months. aro. I was skentical but gave it a trial. The results have been little short of amazing. It, has practically made a new woman of me and gave me just the relief I was looking for.- "Mrs. J. G. Thompson, Chi-opractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1288H.

disappointment with the courtesy a man of the world would have felt compelled to employ. And there was a boy's grief and wrath in both tone and genture as he picked up the fishing poles and muttered:

"Where d'ye want to fish."

"Why, Ted! I don't know." I said, stressing the pronoun, and endeavoring to make my voice as sprightly as possible. I might have edded with overweening truth that I did not care, for whatever sest I might have had for the expedition had long since disappeared, and I was conscious only of a great weariness of body and spirit.

"You know the good places," I began, and was interrupted by another call from Fred.

"Number five!" he vodeled. "Oh, boy! I'm the warm baby tonight. Ain't nobody goin' to tech dis chile. Say, Ted. why don't you take Mrs. Graham around the bend to the big rock? Ought to be sloughs of 'em there."

Madge Takes it Easy.

"Oh, all right!" he returned ungraciously.

"And was warpped like appacose in the thick, warm folds of the motor robe, and with my head upon a folded coat was gazing at the moon and the stars with the first real enjoyment the evening had brought me. I defy any one not a born misanthrope, to lie on the ground in a mellow early autumn evening and watch the moon-beams gild mountain, forest and water, without contentment pervading his soul.

From around the bend came the voices of Fred and his father tossing back good-natured railies, and eager questions and answers concerning the fish they were catching. Evidently it was a rare night for the sport they loved. I had a pleasant gustatory vision of the new ment the catch into weening truth that I did not case, for whatever zest I might have had for the expedition had long since disappeared, and I was conscious only of a great weariness of body and spirit.

Madge Takes it Easy.

"Yes, and we'd be well out of yous way." Ted reloised. "Don't worry. No body wants to share your trough."

"My! Ain't jealousy an awful thing?"
Fred's query apparently was addressed to the moon, the rim of which was just showing over the distant mountains. Ted vouchsafed no answer to its gibe. But ploking up a motor blanket and a heavy coat from the car and had deposited on the stones. he led the way around the bend in the shore line to which Fred had referred.

I followed him, a bit conscience-stricken, more than a bit doubtful as to the success of my ruse. And my doubt grow greater as the minutes wore away with Ted silent and patently researful toward me for my interference. He punctithously baited my hook, though! of a sline to which was list on the shore line to which was well, took off the few fish! caught—a necessity in the case of an ovice such as I, for the bullheads, if not grasped just right, inflict ugly abrasions upon the hand—but he maintained so sulky a silence, so agrawed an air, that I soon grew not only very weary of his attitude, but distinctly irritated at it.

"Ted." I said suddenly, careful to keep my voice, light and indifferent, "I'm afreid Tm not mugh of a fisherman, the mounting the success of my ruse.
